Opening of Motorcycle Park Is Announced

Flyers have gone out to Tennessee, West Virginia, Maryland, Washington, D.C., and North Carolina announcing the opening of M & S Motorcycle Park near Concord, Virginia on April 15th.

The 1rst Central Virginia Motocross Race is set for April 15, 1973, at 2:00 p.m. A crowd of 1,500 people are expected for the opening race. Trophy will be given to the oldest spectator present for this first day. Admission will be $2.00 for adults and 50c for children under 12 years old.

M & S Motorcycle Park is located one and one-half miles from K.O.A., from Appomattox turn left at Concord on Route 608, take first left on 609 and watch for signs.

The races will consist of five classes and the entry fee is set at $1.00. Temporary plans call for races once a month with more added when demand calls for it.

If motorcycle racing is your bag, April 15th won't be a drag. Excitement, thrills and lots of fun. M & S Motorcycle Park is for everyone. The jumps are high, the track is rough. Some men don't know when they've had enough. If blood and guts are what you like, Come on down and bring your bike.

In William & Mary Choir

Thomas R. Terry of Appomattox, a junior at the College of William and Mary, has been selected through auditions to be one of the 40 members chosen out of the 70 member choir to go on tour with the choir from the college.

The tour this year, an annual event, will begin April 23rd and continue through April 29th with the choir singing in Washington, D.C., Harrisburg, Pa., Ridgewood, N.J., Albany, N.Y., and Springfield, Va.

This is the third consecutive year that Terry has been chosen to go on tour with the choir from the College of William and Mary.

For the past 28 years the choir and the chorus at the college have been directed by Dr. Carl A. "Pappy" Fehr. For variety, programs include a

The leadership of our club is backed up by two hard working vice presidents. They are first vice president, Gay Honeycutt, on the left, and second vice president, Kay Stratton, on the right.

The stories following were written by these girls:

by Gay Honeycutt, 1st Vice-President

The main project selected for work by the Appomattox County Chapter Future Homemakers of America this year is "The Future as Homemakers."

Many programs and activities have been used to promote this theme.

The Appomattox Chapter stresses the importance of dressing as many members as possible in its programs and activities. There is no limit to the participation that our chapter has offered this 72-73 school season.

September various recreations were giving concerning summer activities. Two of our active members, Pam Hault and Debbie Stratton gave a report on FFA-FHA camp which is located in Smithfield, Va. Nadine Robinson, State Reporter and Carol Cundiff talked on the National convention that was held in Los Angeles, Calif., and Kay Stratton, second vice-president of our chapter reported on the State Convention that was held in Roanoke.

In October the officers presented a short skit and then led the members into games. Each group thought up a skit on the spur of the moment emphasizing one of the eight purposes. Afterwards we had a tea.

The Appomattox County High School Chapter of the Virginia Association Future Homemakers of America will observe national FHA week, April 1 through 7, focusing on the theme, "Explore Roles - Extend Goals." The 13,000 Future Homemakers in Virginia join half a million other members throughout the country in exploring the multiple roles individuals play in home, family, community and career life.

principal at the Appomattox Intermediate School and Mrs. Gale McCraw, a Home Economics teacher at the Appomattox County High School made up a panel that answered and discussed questions concerning the preparation for marriage and the role of a wife.

In December a Home Economist from Southside Electric Coop. gave a demonstration of Christmas decorations.

For January, Brenda Garrett, Donna Mottley, Nancy Gallien, and Shiela Franklin presented a skit on "How Home Ec. had helped a girl prepare for family living.

A skit was also presented on "Tools for Family Living" in February. The girls taking part were Nadine Robinson, state reporter; Carol Wood, Cindy Guill, Carla Varner, secretary; Merium Ferris, treasurer; Kay Stratton, second vice-president; Grace Ranson Ranson, reporter; and Gay Honeycutt, first vice-president.

At our March meeting we met with the Appomattox Chapter Future Farmers of America, our program consisted of a talent show.

A fashion show is being planned for our April meeting. Bridegowns and bridesmaids' dresses will be modeled by members of the chapter. Also there will be a discussion on how to cut down on the cost of your wedding.

In may we have the installation of new chapter officers.

Through the participation that our members have given, we feel that our programs have been worth while this year.

Our biggest recreational project was the F.F.A. and F.H.A Sweetheart Dance. Pictured above is F.F.A. Sweetheart Grace Ranson and her escort Rector Foster.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

Retired Senior Volunteer Program Begian In March

Mrs. Kathryn Cowger of Route #3, Lynchburg , Virginia was the first Campbell County Senior Citizen to show interest in the Retired Senior Volunteer Program. She came by the office to inquire information before the office staff had been hired, having seen the annoucement of the grant award to Campbell County in the newspaper. The grant award was received in February and the RSVP office began operation in March. The RSVP staff is presently recruiting senior volunteers. Miss Berta Webb, of Concord, Virginia was the first county resident to be enrolled and has been assigned to work with the Campbell County Library. Several others have since been enrolled and assigned stations. The main objective of the Retired Senior Volunteer Program is to develop a recognized role in community and a meaningful life in retirement for all the elderly through significant volunteer service; to regenerate dignity and self-respect by involving older Americans in the mainstream of community life. A secondary objective is to enhance the level of services in the community through increased utilization of this previously untapped resource. RSVP also serves as an advocate of the elderly by education of the general public about the real needs, capabilities, and characteristics of older persons; and to discover previously undiscovered needs and plead the cause of the elderly with governmental bodies.

The Volunteer Stations to which the senior volunteers may be assigned are: The County of Campbell Departments of Recreation, Welfare, Public Library and the Cooperative Extension Service. This list of volunteer stations is presently being expanded to include other public and non-profit organizations as additional needs of volunteer services are being discovered. The main function of RSVP is to place senior volunteers in assignments of their choice. Every effort is made to fit the job to the individual and to secure job situations as close to the senior citizen's home as possible. Through RSVP the senior volunteer is offered at no personal expense good insurance coverage, assistance with transportation and, in some cases, a meal plus necessary encouragement and reassurance.

Senior groups have been organized in Altavista, Rustburg and Concord communities with additional groups to be organized in other parts of the county as community interest demands.

A senior available to serve in a volunteer capacity should contact the RSVP office for additional information by calling any of the following telephone numbers: Lynchburg 845-7011, Rustburg-Gladys 332-5161, Brookneal 283-4900. Altavista 369-4222 or write to Mrs. mary Walker E. Fletcher, RSVP Director, Box 237, Rustburg, Va. 24588. Campbell County Senior Citizens should remember that although RSVP is the abbreviation for Retired Senior Volunteer Program, it always means "Please reply".

Quick And Easy

A Pap test doesn't take much time, doesn't hurt and doesn't cost much, but it can help save lives from cancer of the uterine cervix, says the American Cancer Society.

Make It A Habit

Once a month, during a bath or shower, every woman should begin a quick breast self-examination. The American Cancer Society has a leaflet of instructions about this simple, but lifesaving procedure.

Calendar Note

The American Cancer Society wants to intrude on your calendar once a year like this: Memo--have an annual checkup including cancer tests.
